The Online Degree Pathway (ODP) at Boise State University helps you build a base for your bachelor’s. The foundational credits earned with the ODP are the first step in attaining your degree, prepping you for upper division and degree-specific classes. And the program is perfect for learners like you: Adults with the career and personal goal of earning a college degree.

You’ll work with our student success team and academic advisors for guidance every step of the way. When you finish the ODP you’ll be ready to seamlessly transition into our online bachelor’s programs at Boise State. Don’t wait – take the first step toward your degree and contact us today!

To be eligible for the Online Degree Pathway program, you must:

• Be admissible to Boise State as a degree-seeking student
• Need foundational (lower-division) coursework to complete a bachelor’s degree
This is a general guide of Online Degree Pathway (ODP) courses available for Spring 2018. It is very important that you work closely with your ODP academic advisor to arrange your academic plan and class schedule after you are admitted to the Pathway.
